FIGHTING ROUND LENINGRAD CONTINUES SEVERE: RUSSIANS HITTING BACK AT GERMANS: SUCCESSFUL COUNTER-ATTACK

Enemy Might Make Further Efforts In The Dnieper Area

A SURVEY OF THE SITUATION IN THE GERMAN-RUSSIAN FIGHTING SHOWS, ACCORDING TO AUTHORITATIVE CIRCLES, THAT FIGHTING ROUND LENINGRAD CONTINUES VERY SEVERE AND THE GERMANS HAVE SUSTAINED VERY HEAVY CASUALTIES.

FURTHER SOUTH AT ELNYA, THE RUSSIANS HAVE MADE A SUCCESSFUL COUNTER-ATTACK WITH A SUBSTANTIAL GAIN OF GROUND. IT IS NOT KNOWN WHETHER THE COUNTER-ATTACK IS STILL CONTINUING, BUT IT IS UNDOUBTED PROOF OF THE POWER OF THE RUSSIAN ARMY TO HIT BACK AT THE GERMANS, SAYS BRITISH WIRELESS.

There is also news of a counter-attack in the Gomel sector, probably on a smaller scale, which has met with some success. The scale is such that unless it is continued, it cannot be expected to hold up further German movement in this direction.

THERE ARE NO FURTHER DETAILS OF ACTIVITY IN THE DNIEPER BEND. FIGHTING CONTINUES AND ATTEMPTS HAVE BEEN MADE BY THE GERMANS TO CROSS THE RIVER AT DIFFERENT PLACES, BUT NO INFORMATION THAT THEY HAVE ATTAINED THEIR OBJECT.

Unofficial expert opinion agrees that the Germans might now make two further efforts.

First, they might use parachute troops to surprise the Leningrad defences. It is recalled that although the Liege defences in the western campaign were known to be exceedingly strong, the Germans reduced them by first taking the fort of Emael by a surprise parachute attack.

Again, British troops in Crete were at times surprised, and surrounded by parachutists being suddenly dropped at dawn and carrying out speedy movement before help could be given them.

Second, the comparative lull in the Gomel sector might mean that the Germans are reorganising ready for a push to the south to try and cut off Marshal Budenny's forces and the opening of such a move might begin very soon.

ALONG WHOLE FRONT
LONDON, Sept. 10 (Reuters)—The Soviet communique today states that during the night fighting continued along the whole front.

On Sept. 7, Soviet tanks destroyed one hundred tanks and armoured cars, a large number of cars, lorries and motor-cycles.

Three cavalry divisions were destroyed and seven thousand men captured.

BROOK NO DELAY

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Reuters)—The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, made it clear in the House of Commons today that Britain would brook no delay in implementing the Anglo-Russian agreement with Iran.

HARVEST IS GOOD

MOSCOW, Sept. 10 (Reuters)—There has been in most parts of the Soviet Union this year abundant harvest, not only in the Ukraine and the rest of the Black Earth belt, but also in the Caucasian and Central Asian regions.

Much of the harvesting was already done in South-Western Ukraine when the Germans occupied, though how much grain was sent away in that time has not been disclosed.

Whatever has been lost there can be compensated by the rich harvest elsewhere and all are carefully gathered in. The whole of the harvest has been already successfully gathered in the Crimea and Caucasian regions of Krasnodar and Ordzhonikidze and in the district of Rostov near the mouth of the Don.

There is also the heartening fact that all the grain has been gathered in the wide areas of Eastern Ukraine such as the Kharkov and Goltava districts, and the neighbourhoods of Voroshilovgrad, Stalino and Sumy.

GIRL KNOCKED DOWN BY BUS

A girl, Ma Ho, aged 7, of No. 403, Queen's Rd. West, ground floor, was knocked down by bus No. 558 at 1.30 p.m. yesterday in Queen's Road West.

She was picked up, unconscious being badly injured on the right leg and on the right side of her head.

She was sent to the Queen Mary Hospital.

Today's News Summary

ACCORDING TO THE LATEST SURVEY of the Russo-German war very severe fighting continues round Leningrad. A successful counter-attack by the Soviets in the south is proof of their power to hit back at the enemy. There is little news of operations in the Dnieper bend.

IT IS REPORTED THAT PRESIDENT Roosevelt in his postponed broadcast from the White House will demand strict accounting by Germany of American losses brought about by German operations. From Chungking it is reported that financial circles there are pleased with the conference called in Hongkong by the Stabilisation Board.

THE IRANIAN GOVERNMENT REALISES that there must be no delay in the execution of the demands made by the British and Soviet Governments. A small committee has been set up in Teheran.

ADMIRAL KOBAYASHI HAS WRITTEN in a Tokyo newspaper about Japan's southward policy.

MR. CHURCHILL'S ENCOURAGING review of the war situation will be found on Pages four and nine.

COMMITTEE SET UP IN TEHERAN

It is learned in London that the IRAN GOVERNMENT is fully aware of the urgency attached by the British and Soviet Governments to the execution of their demands, and the measures to be taken to expedite it, according to Reuters.

Ax's legations will be closed immediately and the Iran authorities have already stopped cypher facilities for the Ax's Governments.

A small committee has been set up in Teheran consisting of one member from the British Legation, one from the Soviet Legation, and the Director-General of the Iran Ministry for Foreign Affairs, to arrange for the handing over of German nationals to the Soviets and British.

The British Government is anxious to see reforms introduced which will be of advantage to the Persian people. A great amount of food was sent out of Iran to Germany and elsewhere. This process has been stopped and the British are sending food into Iran to relieve the hunger of the people.

SOVIET NEEDS

LONDON, Sept. 10 (BWS)—Principal comment in morning news papers is reserved for the Prime Minister's war statement delivered in the Commons yesterday, and all papers express approval of the stern warning Mr. Churchill gave against easy optimism and hopes of an early end to the war.

THE TIMES points out that all other features of the situation dealt with by the Prime Minister have a bearing on the central feature of Soviet needs.

Thus the meeting with President Roosevelt concerned the question of joint assistance, recent activities in the Middle East largely designed to open up new ways of contact with and reinforcement of the Russian front, while the safe arrival of large consignments from America means greater chances of increased British output of essential needs.

The Times concludes this passage by stating: "No one who heard or reads the Prime Minister's speech can entertain the slightest suspicion that there is any hesitation or avoidable delay."

Chungking Financial Quarters Are Pleased

Financial quarters in Chungking are pleased with the results of the Hongkong conference called by the STABILISATION BOARD, says Reuters.

It is stated that, though a small number of money shops and brokers may still continue to deal in foreign exchange, the amounts will be small and such transactions cannot affect the exchange market.

Hereafter, it is declared, exchange rates will be fixed by the Stabilisation Chinese Currency and Control Foreign Exchange.

THE CENTRAL DAILY NEWS reports plans for the gradual removal of the exchange market from Shanghai, Hongkong and the Interior, and also plans to adjust the fluctuations of Chinese currency.

These plans, it is added, will be discussed at a conference of experts which will be summoned in the near future by the Secretariat of the Economic Conference of the Executive Yuan.

Members of the Stabilisation Board are returning to Chungking shortly.

ROOSEVELT WILL DEMAND STRICT ACCOUNTING FOR AMERICAN LOSSES DUE TO GERMAN OPERATIONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (Reuters)—It is reliably reported from informed sources that PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, in his speech on Thursday, will demand that Germany give a strict accounting for American lives and American losses due to Nazi operations.

THESE SOURCES PLACED AMERICAN SHIP LOSSES AT FIVE WITH AT LEAST 65 UNITED STATES CITIZENS MEETING DEATH.

It is learned that Mr. Roosevelt is still working on his address.

No information is available here concerning any action Mr. Roosevelt may announce to enforce respect for American rights on the high seas, but there is little doubt that the President will make clear that the United States hold uncompromisingly to the doctrine of freedom of the seas.

MR. SOL BLOOM, Chairman of the House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee, said: "THE NEUTRALITY ACT WHICH HAS TIED OUR HANDS IN AIDING ENGLAND SHOULD BE REPEALED."

$15 Million Worth Of Lease, Lend Supplies & Materials For China

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (Reuters)—About $15,000,000 worth of Lease and Lend supplies and materials are beginning to go to China to build a railway from Burma to an undisclosed point in the Chinese interior to supplement the Burma Road, according to a survey in the Press regarding American war production.

Manufacturing equipment, raw materials and planes are also said to be going to China, while ships, tanks, planes, ammunition and other supplies are moving in a steadily growing volume to Britain.

At the same time that oil is being sent to Vladivostok for use by the Russians, American supplies in increasing quantities are proceeding to the Middle East and American planes, small arms and

SOUTHWARD POLICY OF JAPAN

ADMIRAL SEIZO KOBAYASHI, former Governor-General of Formosa, writing in the KOKUMIN SHIMBUN, declared that while

Japan's southward policy remains purely economic and peaceful, nevertheless, "firm measures" must be taken if nations persisting in hostile intentions deliberately threaten Japan's security, says Reuters.

He declared that Japan must stand by her principles resolutely and build up her power to prepare for all emergencies.

"That Japan cannot be defeated by any sort of encirclement is certain, but it is too easy to confuse ability to withstand defeat with ability to win certain victory."

"The possibility of both parties being undefeated and hostilities consequently developing into a long-term war also must be considered."

Admiral Kobayashi declared that if further obstacles are thrown in the path of Japan's peaceful advance southward, then the nation must be prepared for protracted guerrilla warfare which will be both spiritually and physically exhausting.

Working Together To Do Our Bare Duty In This Crisis Of Human Affairs

INSPIRING MESSAGE BROADCAST BY NEW GOVERNOR OF COLONY

"... I am convinced that it is only by working together, and by working with all our might, that we can do our bare duty in this crisis of human affairs, and it is only so that we shall be able to stand up as free men in the years to come."

Thus spoke HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR, SIR MARK YOUNG, K.C.M.G., when he broadcast an inspiring message to the people of the Colony last night.

On the subject of evacuation, His Excellency gave an assurance of his very lively interest and sympathy and his hope that "the separations, which so many of us are required to endure may be quickly ended."

His Excellency was introduced by Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones, Postmaster-General and Chairman of the Hongkong Broadcasting Studio.

His Excellency said:—It is generally admitted to be both permissible and natural that a new Governor should occupy himself in listening rather than in speaking during the first few days that elapse after his arrival, or, at the least, during his first few hours.

Nevertheless, when it was suggested to me while I was on my way here, that I should broadcast on the day of my arrival, I decided that it might be appropriate, and that it should not constitute too serious a breach of the salutary maxim to which I have referred, if I were to take the opportunity of saying a few words to a wider circle of listeners than those in whose presence I gratefully acknowledged the welcome given to me this morning.

I want to begin with a word of sympathy and condolence. The Colony has just lost through illness the services of a distinguished public servant in the person of your late Governor, Sir Compton Page, C.B., C.M.G.

DUKE OF KENT

DUKE PRAISES AIR PERSONNEL

QUEBEC, Sept. 10 (Reuters)—The DUKE OF KENT, in a farewell radio address to Canada, said that the Commonwealth air training plan "is to play one of the major roles in the ultimate victory of free people over tyranny."

He added that he was "impressed and inspired by the excellent personnel I found associated with the Air Force, the manhood of which is unsurpassed anywhere in the world."

The Duke had just finished a five-week tour of Canadian air force schools. He spoke in English and then gave a short message to the people of Quebec in French.

The Duke referred to President Roosevelt as "the remarkable President of that great Republic."

FAIR DEALING
The Duke added: "I believe must be founded."

Premier's Survey Of War Full Of Encouragement

In a broadcast commentary from London last night, MAJOR ALLEN MURRAY, said that Mr. Churchill's survey of the war was full of encouragement.

What the Prime Minister had told of the Battle of the Atlantic, a vital front, was extremely heartening.

In the Middle East much of the success had been due to the gallant defence of Crete where the heavy losses suffered by the Germans had prevented them from taking any action in Syria, Iraq and Iran. It was good to know that the Iranian Government had accepted the Allied terms.

Major Murray said that another point in Mr. Churchill's speech to the speaker's mind the most important was the Premier's reference to the British war effort. But showing our appreciation was not enough. We had to make sacrifices because our Allies had to be fully equipped with war needs as they had lost many industrial centres and munition factories. Large supplies from America, earmarked for Britain, would have to be diverted to Russia and much of our own factory industry would have to go to help Russia as the British war effort would be

Five-Game Charity Cup Series Brings Hardball Season To A Close

By "R.O.Y."

TWO EXCITING TUSSELS IN FIVE-GAME CHARITY CUP SERIES BROUGHT THE LOCAL HARDBALL SEASON TO A CLOSE DURING THE WEEK-END, when on Saturday the U.S. Navy squeezed through to a 9-8 decision to even the series at two-all after the Hongkong All-Stars had taken a clear two-game lead.

The Navy went one better on Sunday morning when they clinched the series and the handsome trophy with another odd-run victory 5-4 in the decider.

BOTH TUSSELS were featured by the splendid hurling of "Ski" Powlawski, the Potent Polack, whose steadiness in the pinches redeemed several dangerous situations brought about by his teammates fielding errors.

TWO GRAND FIGHTS

The locals, without George Souza, Hank All, George Souza and Tony Alves who were soldiering, put up two grand fights and were perhaps rather unlucky to have lost the series. Hongkong's starting battery on Saturday was Ernie Hearther and Al Lau. The former making a come-back on the mound after many seasons did a grand job for three sessions but lost a battle with Father Time to surrender the mound to younger veteran Wally Ching.

This clash went to eleven stanzas before a decision was reached, the count being deadlocked at four-all at the end of the regulation seventh.

CHANCE FOR GLORY

The local tallied three times in the eighth on a couple of hits and fans were reaching for their hats and coats when in the Navy's turn at bat, Mascavage and MacKenzie were early outs. Greasy Moore got on first and Blady Groneck hoisted a sitter to Dick Chung that should have ended the game and series, but didn't, as Dick butter-fingered, his chance for glory. Bowersox walked while Moore, and Groneck, trampled across the pan on two passed balls. Willie Wilson beat out a grounder to Nip Lum whilst Bowersox denied the plate to again knot the count.

Neither squad tallied in the ninth and tenth frames, but the locals again got their noses in front when Dick Chung clouted a rousing double to drive Al Lau home in the eleventh. Tony Mascavage grounded to Choy for the first erasure but MacKenzie started the winning rally by driving a single to centre. Moore followed with a bingle to right, Mac taking third, and the next play saw MacKenzie slide home as Al Lau tossed to Nelson Ma in what might have been meant as a strategic play. Moore then tallied the winning marker when Choy muffed Bob Wilson pop to short.

DECIDING GAME

Hardly as exciting as the previous day's fracas, the deciding game of the series was nevertheless less worthy entertainment. The local lads drew first blood with a single tally in the opening frame but lost that slender lead when the blue-jackets counted twice in the third. The Hongkongites evened the scores in their half of the fifth, but the Navy regained the lead with another counter in their half of the same stanza.

The All-Stars were full of fight though and once again nosed out in front in the first half of the sixth. In this session, Nelson Ma was safe on Bob Wilson fumble of Ruel's peg to first. Babe Chinn followed with a daisy cutter to right but Nelson Ma was nailed at third on the throw-in as he stopped halfway between second and third to take a peek at what the right-fielder was doing.

Dick Chung camp up with his second hit of the day and both runners advanced when Bob Wilson hit the dirt after taking Choy's foul fly, and both counted when Bowersox unleashed a wild heave to first on Nip Lum's grounder to third. Hank Chan popped to Bowersox for the last out.

NAVY GETS STARTED

Trailing by a single run, the Navy lads got started again when Nip Lum pulled Hank Chan off the initial sack to give Groneck a life, and Wally Ching repeated on Bowersox's dump. Kennard drew a free pass to load the sacks with none away but the locals' hopes faded again as Wilson popped to Choy and "Ski" Powlawski succumbed to a called third strike.

Hank Ruel though settled the locals' chances when he laid the Hickory off Wally Ching's sucker-bat for two bases, chasing in Groneck and Bowersox as a result. Mascavage was tossed out, Wally Ching to Hank Chan to end the frame.

The locals made a valiant attempt to remain in the game in their last time up but, after getting two runners on with none away, were held by sound defence in which Bowersox played a major part. Dick Chung maintained his excellent batting form of the previous day to pace the batters with two bingles in three trips to pan.

Wally Ching hurled a heady game, except for the one sucker-bat he threw to "Crooner" Ruel, and had the Indian sign on Tony Mascavage, the sailors' clean-up artist, who failed to garner a hit in either clash.

FOUR MEN GAOLED FOR VARIETY DEMANDING MONEY FROM JUNK FOKI

The case in which KWAN HUNG-CHUN, HO NG-WO, LEUNG KAM-SHING and WONG CHING-KUEN were charged with demanding money from Lam Tung-yau, foki of Junk No. 15703H, in Cheung Chau, on Aug. 22, was concluded before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the District Office, South, yesterday when all the accused were convicted and sentenced to six months' hard labour to be followed by expulsion. The fourth defendant is also to be placed under Police supervision for two years.

After evidence of arrest had been given by Sgt. Lau Chiu and Sub-Insps. T. McMahon, of the Cheung Chau Police station, evidence was given by the first defendant who stated that he knew complainant for several years and had had several dealings at Yeung Kong (Burma) with him.

In the 11th moon of last year, they both ran the blockade from Burma to Hongkong. He lent complainant $11 on the 23rd day of the following moon. This amount had not yet been repaid. On Aug. 27 he met complainant in a brothel and asked him for the money.

MONEY OWED

Ho Ng-wo corroborated the first defendant's statement that complainant owed Kwan $11.

The third defendant stated, "I have never assaulted him. I did not demand money from the complainant. I know nothing about the matter at all. I do not even know the complainant."

Wong Ching-kuen denied all knowledge of the assault and of having demanded, with menaces, any money from the complainant. He further claimed that he did not know Lam.

Mr. Alfred Y. Hon, who appeared for the first, third and fourth defendants, submitted that there was no case against the second and third accused. The money, said Mr. Hon, was lent to complainant by the first defendant.

THE LONE WOLF KEEPS A DATE

Fiction's most fascinating rogue, Michael Lanyard, returns to the King's Theatre screen today in "The Lone Wolf Keeps a Date," a sparkling Columbia melodrama. Warren William, who has played the title role in the past, succeeds in making the screen's swiftest scamp come to life more skillfully than ever, as he gallily prowls along the Florida shore, finding adventure and romance in every shadow. His romantic foil in his latest hit of the popular series is Frances Robinson, lovely, young Columbia starlet. The entire cast is superb. Mr. William, smooth, sure, comedy-adept, is the perfect Lone Wolf.

'THIS BIGAMY WAVE

Judge Beazley said at the Old Bailey: "I cannot understand this wave of deliberate bigamy which seems to be sweeping over the country. Half my time is occupied with bigamy cases."

Miss Robinson, in the role of Patricia Lawrence, is properly effective and beautiful, while Eric Blom comes in for his share of the laughs as Jamison, Lanyard's bored-but-efficient valet.

Others who contribute ably to the merry excitement include Bruce Bennett, Ted Prouty, Fred Kokey, Thurston Hall and Don Boddo.

VITAL HUMAN DRAMA

Great in its simplicity and dely blending vigorous, stirring drama with a magnificent inspirational mood, "The Great Commandment" is at the Majestic Theatre. It's a picture unlike any you have ever seen!

The moving story is based on one phase of the world's greatest drama and depicts how peace was brought about during a revolt against the tyrannical Roman rule. However ancient in its settings, the film has modern overtones and implications. The vital film moves swiftly with mounting suspense and absorption.

For all its profundity the plot isn't complicated. The drama revolves around the activities of Joel, splendidly portrayed by John Beal, who is the leader of the youthful and fiery Zealots, sworn to wipe out Roman rule. But when Joel discovers the "new leader" his philosophy changes and he goes back to his people, carrying the message of "The Great Commandment."

GERMANS EMPLOYING GREATER NUMBER OF U-BOATS, PLANES IN ATLANTIC ARENA

Comprehensive Review Of The War Situation

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—Continuing his statement in the House of Commons, MR. WINSTON CHURCHILL said that the enemy had been employing a greater number of U-boats and a larger number of long-range aircraft than ever before and we much expect further increases.

"We have made prodigious exertions and our resources are continually growing but the Admiralty staff, who have been working in perfect harmony with the Royal Air Force, would be the last to guarantee their continuance as a matter of course and the slightest relaxation of vigilance, of exertion and contrivance would be followed swiftly by very serious lapses.

"The Germans are very much hampered on the American parts of the Atlantic by fear of trouble with powerful American naval forces which ceaselessly control the approaches to the Western Hemisphere. This has been a help to us. I could wish that it might be of greater help but here again the enemy's tactics may change.

"No doubt Hitler would rather finish off Russia, then Britain, before coming to close quarters with the United States. That would be in accordance with his usual technique of one by one.

"Hitler has, however, also the greatest possible need to prevent precious munitions and supplies now streaming across the Atlantic in pursuance of the policy of the United States Government from reaching our shores. Should he do so, the area of the danger zones will again become ocean-wide.

"In the meanwhile let us hear no vain talk about the Battle of the Atlantic being won. We may be content with the successes which have rewarded patience and exertion, but war is inexhaustible in its surprises.

ICELAND VISIT

"With great pleasure on my homeward voyage I visited Iceland where we were received with the utmost cordiality by the Government and people and where I had the honour of reviewing large numbers of strong British and United States forces which no doubt, due to entirely different reasons and in pursuance of separate duties happened to be engaged jointly in defending this all-important island and stepping stone across the Atlantic from Nazi intrusion and attack.

"Very considerable British and United States air and naval forces are also assembled in Iceland. The spacious airfields which we have constructed and are expanding there and in Newfoundland will play an ever-increasing part in the control of these broad waters and, in the continual flow of the broadening stream of heavy bombers now acting against Germany night after night, will play a decisive part or one of the decisive parts in the final victory.

"Our affairs have also prospered in the eastern theatre of war. Our relations with Iraq are governed by a Treaty of Alliance which in time of war or other emergency accords to us wide powers for the purpose of defending Iraq and British interests."

After reference to German infiltration and intrigue and the flight of the pro-German Raschid Ali, Mr. Churchill said: "This move did not find us wholly unprepared. We had the right and duty to protect our communications through Iraq and orders were immediately given to send to Basra an Indian division which had been held in readiness for this emergency. Hoping perhaps

ASSISTANCE TO RUSSIA

DALTON REPORTS TO COMMONS

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—"Considerable progress" has been made in providing Russia with economic assistance.

The Minister of Economic Warfare, Mr. Hugh Dalton, told the House of Commons that substantial shipments had already been made, including rubber, tin, wool, lead, jute and shellac and not withstanding the difficulties of transport, Britain was doing her best to meet the Russian requests in full.

Commodities which cannot be supplied from the British Empire or Allied sources are being discussed in Washington and afterwards at the Moscow Conference.

The Labour Member, Mr. Arthur Henderson, asked whether the forthcoming Moscow Conference would be long delayed.

Mr. Dalton said that that was beyond his competence to answer. He added: "My answer applies to non-military supplies."

THREE-POWER CONFAB

It is now definitely established that Colonel Alan Monkhouse, one of the officials in Moscow of Metropolitan Vickers Electrical Company, charged in 1933 by the Russians and later expelled, will be interpreter to Lord Beaverbrook in the forthcoming Three-Power Conference in Moscow.

The Soviet Government have intimated their willing assent.

Iraqi Army Permitted To Retain Arms

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—The War Secretary, Captain David Margesson, announced in the House of Commons yesterday in reply to a question that under the Armistice terms the Iraqi Army was permitted to retain its arms and equipment.

The Independent Member, Colonel J. C. Wedgwood, asked whether this was "not carrying appeasement to a ridiculous extent."

Captain Margesson replied that that was not the view taken by those responsible, otherwise this condition would not have been inserted in the Armistice terms.

The Labour Member, Mr. Emmanuel Shinwell, asked whether precautions have been taken so that Iraqi arms would not be used against us.

Captain Margesson replied: "Yes."

Slowing Down Of Tempo, If Not Temperature, In Japan

SINGAPORE, Sept. 9 (Reuter).—"There would appear to have been a slowing down of the tempo if not temperature in Japan," declared MR. ALFRED DUFF-COOPER in an interview with the Press here yesterday. "This is something to be thankful for."

Mr. Duff-Cooper arrived here by clipper from Manila. He left London on August 6 on what he described as a mission to report direct to the War Cabinet regarding the possibilities of establishing a decentralised unit of the War Cabinet in Singapore which would co-ordinate British policy throughout the Far East and eliminate constant references to problems to various departments in London.

Mr. Duff-Cooper said that he had little to add to his previous statements regarding Japan which can be summarised as that Japan has missed the bus since Britain's defences in the Far East are now immeasurably stronger than a year ago.

CLOSE CO-OPERATION

Questioned regarding Britain's reaction to possible further Japanese encroachments, for example into Thailand, Mr. Duff-Cooper said: "A very serious view will be taken of any further Japanese aggression though the action we would take in such a hypothetical case I naturally cannot forecast. We are working in close co-operation with the United States and this co-operation is of utmost importance. I think that I can fairly state that neither Britain nor the United States desires to see the war spread to the Pacific, but if it does we are ready to face whatever comes."

Mr. Duff-Cooper said that in his investigation of the Far Eastern situation, he will almost certainly visit Burma, Australia and the Netherlands East Indies. The possibility of his going to Chungking is not excluded though there is no immediate likelihood of his going to Japan.

TITLEBAUM ON TRIAL

HOPELESSLY IN DEBT ALLEGED

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—Mr. Samuel Titlebaum, former United States Deputy Marshal, went on trial yesterday in the United States Court of China charged with 12 counts of embezzlement of United States property.

Titlebaum was a Disbursing Officer in the United States Courts and was authorised to sign cheques for the salaries of the Court personnel and had control over all firearms and ammunition of the United States Government.

The District Attorney, Mr. Leighton Shields, opened the case which attracted wide interest here, stating that he had evidence to prove the defendant took two revolvers, 300 rounds of ammunition and negotiated the sale to the Chinese. The District Attorney said Titlebaum was hopelessly in debt which was the motive for the alleged theft and sale of the guns.

NAVAL ACTION OFF MURMANSK

GERMAN DESTROYER, TRAWLER SUNK

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—A German destroyer, an armoured trawler and another vessel were sunk by the Royal Navy off Murmansk.

The German light cruiser Bremse was damaged and is believed to have been sunk.

There were no British casualties.

The Admiralty communique says: "Light forces under the command of Rear Admiral P. L. Vian have been operating against German convoys supplying their troops on the Murmansk front. These operations have been successful."

"A German destroyer and an armed trawler have been sunk and the German light cruiser Bremse which was damaged by naval aircraft during the raid on Kirkenes in July, is believed to have been sunk. Other ships have probably been damaged. We sustained no damage. Further details are awaited."

SCHOONER TORPEDOED
"A large Italian schooner has been torpedoed and sunk by one of our submarines in the Central Mediterranean," states an Admiralty communique.

"Off the harbour of Benghazi, another submarine engaged two self-propelled supply lighters by gunfire. Both were hit and damaged and one may have been sunk."

NEW U.S. ENVOY TO THAILAND

SINGAPORE, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—The new American Minister to Thailand, Mr. Willis R. Peck, arrived in the same clipper here yesterday as Mr. A. Duff-Cooper, the British Minister.

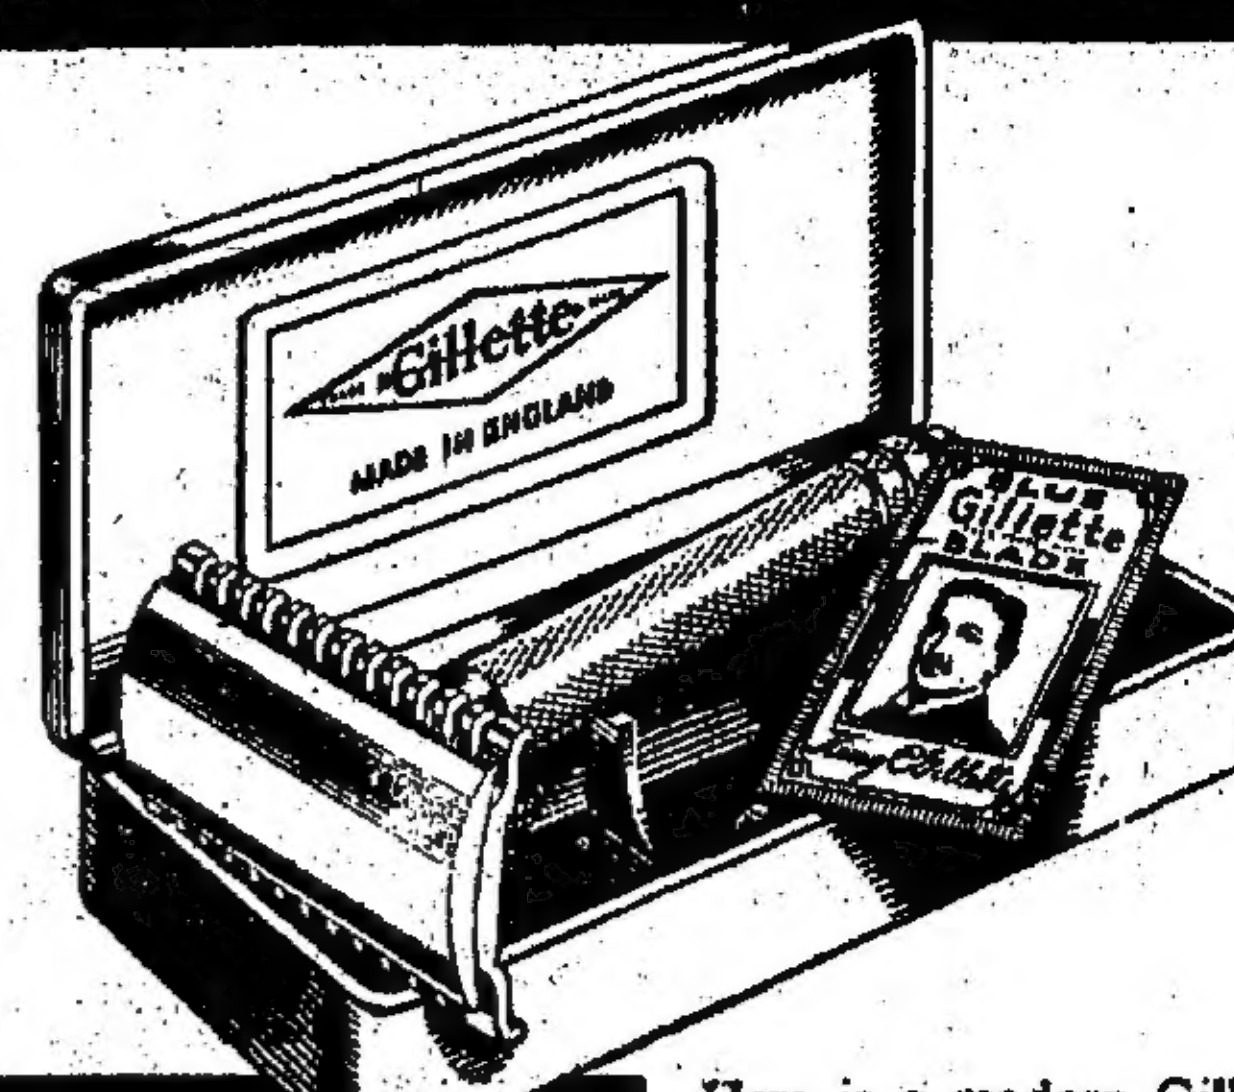

Mr. Peck and Mr. Duff-Cooper travelled all the way from the United States together and took the opportunity to have a number of frank talks which both state will probably be very useful in future.

Spitzbergen Raiders Safely Back

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—It is officially stated that the Allied forces which landed at Spitzbergen are safely back to this country.

Nothing of any use to the enemy remains in Spitzbergen.

FREUD FISH

"Hawkins, did Lord Henry empty crème de menthe amongst my goldfish in the course of last night's party?"

"Not to my knowledge, Sir. There was no crème de menthe to empty."

"Then I must have dreamt it. A vivid dream, Hawkins, because their noses all turned red."

"Undoubtedly a dream, Sir, since I took the precaution of evacuating the bowl to my pantry when Lord Henry began to sing."

"Very wise of you, Hawkins."

Were many glasses broken?"

"None, Sir."

"No casualties to any of the guests?"

"No, Sir. And judging from the amount of Rose's consumed, there will be no headaches this morning either. We got through six and a half bottles of Rose's Lime Juice."

"Well, it's all in a good cause. And now, get me a really big breakfast. And give the goldfish a double ration of ants' eggs, just to celebrate their hairbreadth escape."

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

THE HEAVENLY TWINS
OF THE B.B.C.

MARJORIE ANDERSON

GEORGIE HENSCHEL

GEORGIE HENSCHEL AND MARJORIE ANDERSON ARE INEVITABLY KNOWN IN THE B.B.C. AS THE HEAVENLY TWINS. They are the two women who together broke precedent in the Empire Service by joining as announcers in June, 1940. They both admit that they were terrified at first, having the feeling that they would be regarded as gate-crashers by the men announcers. Their relief was considerable when they found, on the contrary, that they were quite calmly accepted as friends and colleagues.

GEORGIE HENSCHEL is proud of her connexion with America. She is the daughter of Sir George Henschel, who founded the Boston Symphony Orchestra in 1880, and was, for four years, its first conductor. She accompanied him when he returned there for the fiftieth anniversary of the Orchestra, and had the time of her life. Sir George was twice married, first to Lilian Ballie and then to Amy Louis, the New York singer, and the mother of Georgie herself.

Georgie, therefore, is herself half American, though she was brought up in the highlands of Inverness, as well as in France and in Germany. After a short time as a teacher at her old school, Georgie, who had been trained by her father, went on the concert stage as a singer, giving her first concert at the age of twenty-one at the London Grotto Hall. She has sung at the first headquarters of the B.B.C. at Savoy Hill, run charity balls, appeared at the Open-Air Theatre in Regent's Park, and been a land girl.

She is tall, very much alive and interested in life, and chiefly looking forward to the end of the war, when she hopes to take advantage of all the invitations to visit them that she has received from listeners in the Empire and the United States. Indeed she has been bold enough to hope that some sort of exchange of announcers will be possible between broadcasting stations of English-speaking communities.

MARJORIE ANDERSON is also tall. She is dark and has large watchful eyes—inspects her company very carefully before she starts to talk. Her background is one of a quiet London upbringing, followed by a secretarial training, and then suddenly blossoming out into a stage career. Marjorie was born in 1913, the daughter of a Royal Naval Volunteer Reservist, who died when she was six. School days were followed by a period at the Central School of Speech Training and Dramatic Art of the University of London, where she secured a diploma, and then went straight on to the stage. She played in Boston and New York.

"TIN HAT DAY"

At a meeting of the Ladies Committee organising the "TIN HAT DAY" in aid of the Bomber Fund, presided over by Lady MacGregor, yesterday, it was decided to invite those who wish to make advance contributions to send their cheques, either to the President, Lady MacGregor, "Tandaraagee," 372 The Peak; or to the Honorary Secretary, Miss S. Bander, Morning Post Building.

It was also decided that the emblems, in the form of "tin hats" would not be on sale until the morning of October 4.

The following members of the committee were present: Mrs. A. N. Braude, Mrs. A. Hyde-Lay, Mrs. H. F. Phillips, Mrs. E. C. Ritchie, Mrs. J. A. Ritchie, Mrs. H. A. Taylor, and Miss S. Bander, (Hon. Secretary).

FORTHCOMING MARRIAGES

The following forthcoming marriages were announced at the Registry, Supreme Court, yesterday:—

Mr. Chan Wing-sun, merchant, of No. 108 Queen's Road Central, and Miss Yuen-wa, of No. 41 Main Street, Apichau.

Just Looking Back

On reading that a knighthood had been bestowed on Frederic William Eggleston, one's mind goes back to the day when he reported for duty at Tidworth Barracks on Salisbury Plain during 1916.

It was not long before he became a sergeant in that section of the A.I.F. Depots in U.K. that operated under the Judge Advocate General and for a while he held the responsible position of president in the wildest sergeants' mess ever known. One of its members was Staff-Sergeant Margery, whose name lives in Australian football annals in connexion with the Margery Medal in South Australia.

Some time later Sgt. Eggleston received his commission and when the Armistice was signed many were surprised to hear that their mate in many a Sunday afternoon jaunt over Salisbury Plain was going to Versailles with Prime Minister Hughes.

There will be many Diggers who will join in congratulating Sir Frederic Eggleston on being honoured by the King for the fine work he has so unobtrusively performed ever since he doffed the uniform which he wore with distinction.

THE KING—31
YEARS AGO

At the Coronation of his father and mother in 1910, seven-year-old Prince George (our present King) was bored. Reaching over to tickle his solemn-faced sister Princess Mary, now the Princess Royal, he slipped off his seat and plopped to the floor. When Mary stooped over to pick him up, her coronet fell off.

The Prince of Wales (now Governor of the Bahamas) unsmiled the confusion by fielding the coronet, restoring it to his sister's head and threatening to punish George's nose if he did not behave.

ROUSING WELCOME
FOR NEW GOVERNOR
AT QUEEN'S PIER

A large and representative gathering, comprising members of the Executive and Legislative Councils, senior officers in the Government service, members of the three Services and of the Consular Body and prominent citizens of the Colony met HIS EXCELLENCY SIR MARK YOUNG, K.C.M.G., Hongkong's new Governor, when he landed at Queen's Pier yesterday morning.

The steamer by which Hongkong's new Governor arrived was met outside the harbour by a launch in which were the Harbour Master, Cmdr. J. Jolly, R.N.R., and Captain S. H. Batty-Smith, A.D.C. The official party was escorted into the harbour by four Royal Air Force planes which circled overhead as His Excellency disembarked at Queen's Pier.

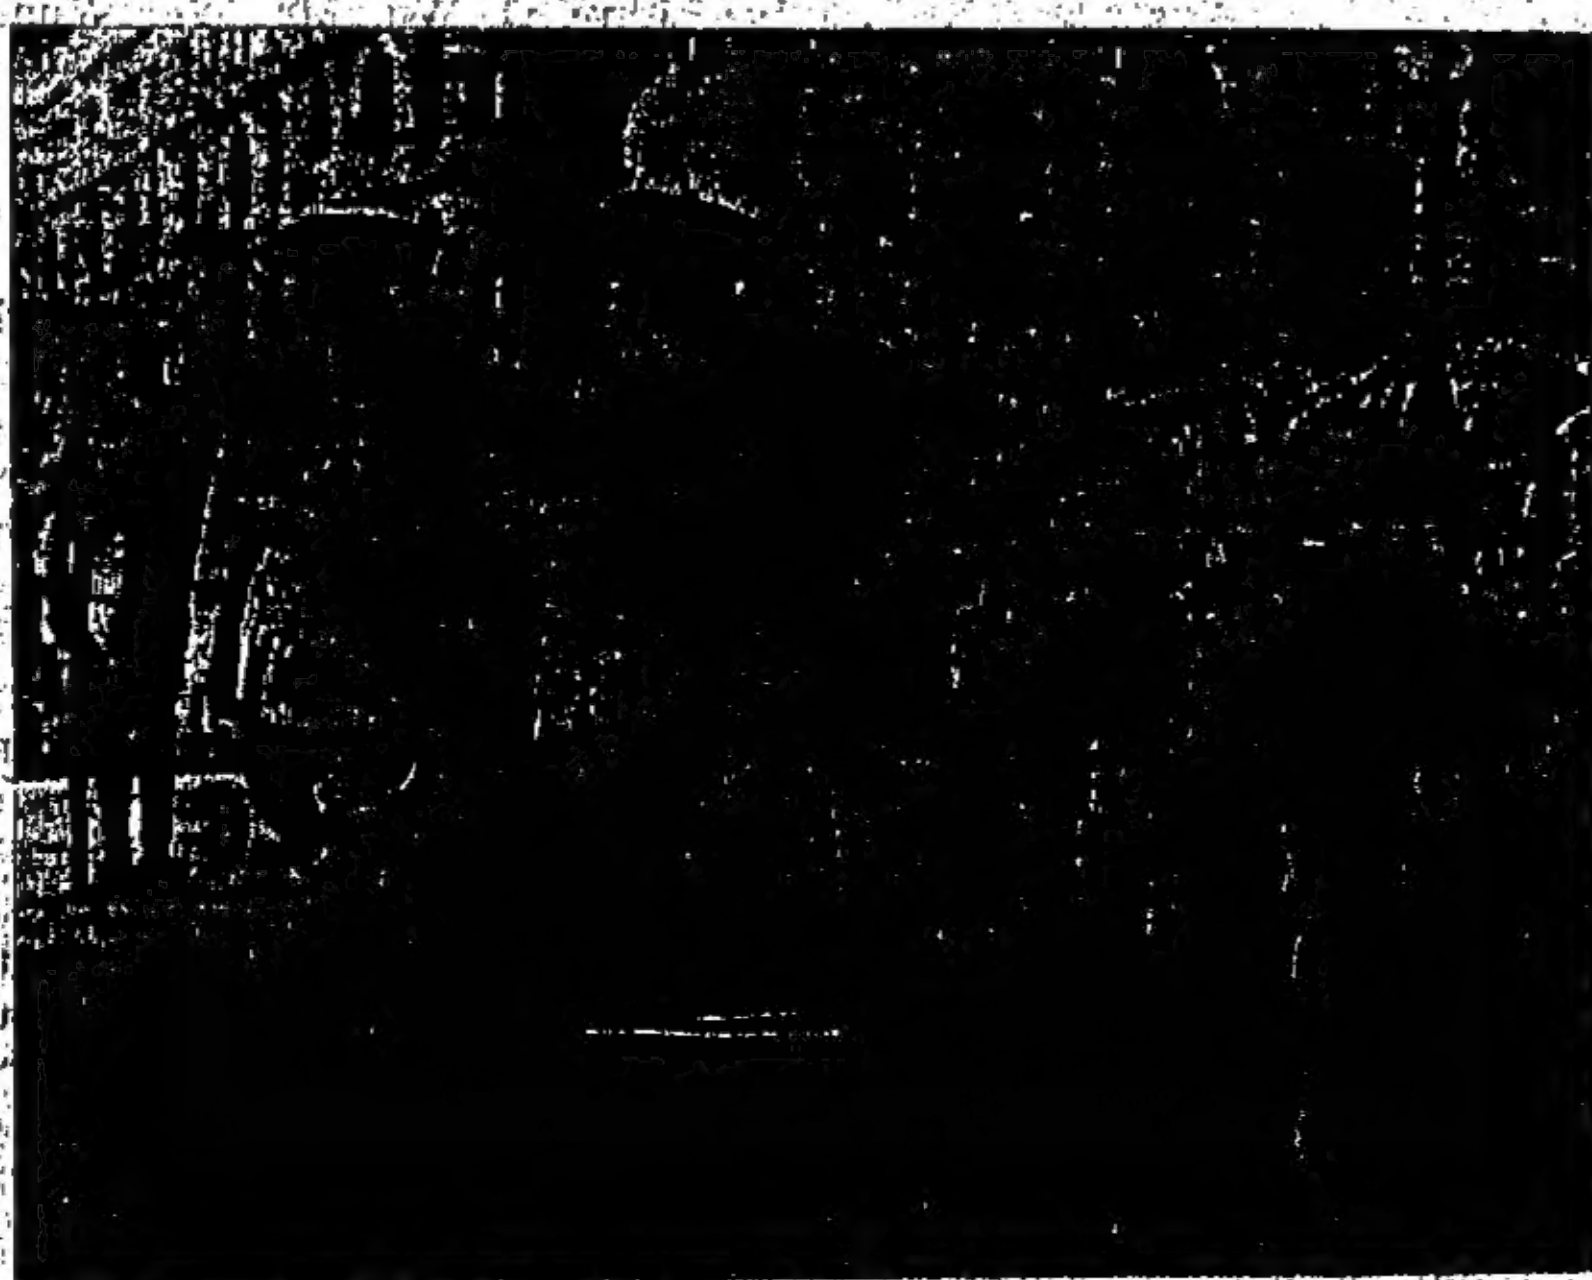

On landing, Sir Mark was received by His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government, Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, C.M.G., who then introduced him to His Excellency the General Officer Commanding, Major-General C. M. Members of the Executive Council were then introduced to His Excellency, followed by members of the Legislative Council, Officers of the three Services, members of the Consular Body and prominent citizens who had been invited to be present at the Pier.

After the introductions, Sir Mark Young inspected a Guard of Honour provided by the 2nd Battalion, The Royal Scots, after which he proceeded to Government House, accompanied by His Excellency Mr. N. L. Smith. The official car was escorted by a motor-cycle detachment from the Hongkong Police.

IT'S CARMEN HERSELF

CARMEN MIRANDA

The pulsating tempo of the Samba ushers in the 20th Century-Fox hit, "THAT NIGHT IN RIO," soon to be shown in Hongkong.

Catchy tunes by Mack Gordon and Harry Warren, exciting dances by Carmen Miranda and her Samba stepping sirens (Carmen incidentally is playing her first full-length role in an American film), clever characterisations by Don Ameche, and the alluring appeal of Alice Faye in a daringly amusing story, make "That Night in Rio" one of the season's best entertainment bets.

The technicolour camera has captured the richness and lush tropical beauty of Rio de Janeiro, and this holds true both for interior and exterior shots.

PINS ARE PRECIOUS TO-DAY

BRITAIN HAS A PIN FAMINE. Pin factories are in full production, but 95 per cent. of output is exported.

Before the war Britain used 5,000,000,000 pins each year, 6,000,000 lb. of safety pins, and 370,000,000 hair-pins.

Only 250,000,000 pins are available for the home trade today. These cost nearly four times pre-war price.

There are 10 pin manufacturers in the country. One firm turns out 100,000,000 a week.

It was wastage of pins, not quantity used, which helped to push sales up to nearly £500,000 annually in the three years before the war.

When a man bought a new shirt he usually found 12 pins in it.

Today, if you can find six you are lucky. Among the largest users of pins are banks, insurance companies, and railways.

NAZI MUSEUM

Strasbourg Cathedral, the finest example of Gothic architecture in reconquered Alsace, has been secularised by the Nazis and turned into a museum. So an escaped Alsatian priest reported in Lisbon last week. The Nazis have stripped its altars, stooped all religious services, refused to admit the Bishop and other Cathedral clergy. Male visitors must keep on their hats as though they were not in church.

AUSTRALIAN-CHINESE RELATIONS

"I trust my work in Chungking will be as valuable as that of Mr. R. G. Casey or Sir John Latham, Minister to Washington and Tokyo respectively, and my mission will result in the extension of political, cultural and commercial contacts between Australia and China," said Sir Frederic Eggleston in a Press interview in Singapore.

Sir Frederic said: "I wish to state emphatically that the appointment of Australian diplomatic representatives to overseas countries does not represent any departure from the Imperial policy. Australian policy will keep closely in step with British policy in every way."

"China is fighting to resist aggression. Australia has long admired the tenacity and courage with which the Chinese people have maintained their resistance against a powerful and well-equipped enemy. My appointment has a very great significance as a gesture of sympathy from the Government and people of Australia towards the Chinese people and its leaders, Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-shek."

Sir Frederic Eggleston hopes to meet Mr. Hsu Mo, the Chinese Minister to Australia, and Mr. Duff Cooper, the British Cabinet Minister for the Far East, before proceeding to Chungking via Rangoon.

Sir Frederic refused to discuss politics. When questioned whether the ABCD is an offensive or defensive front, he answered: "That is politics again."

The new Australian Minister to China visited China's eastern seaboard including Canton and Shanghai in 1929. He said he does not know any Oriental languages but will make an effort to learn Chinese, adding "Now, I can handle chopsticks better than the Chinese language."

Sir Frederic's hobbies are gardening and art collection. (General News).

HONGKONG, SEPTEMBER 11, 1941.

CHURCHILL DAY

ADDRESSING the House of Commons on Tuesday for the first time since his ocean meeting with President Roosevelt, the British Prime Minister gave what is perhaps his longest review of the war. It was a real Churchill Day and the Prime Minister had some real encouragement to give the House, and the Empire in general, on every aspect of the present day situation, his descriptions being couched in the now well-known Churchillian phrases. A large part of what Mr. Churchill said on Tuesday was already covered by his recent broadcast, but the additional details he furnished provided an answer to many of the questions which had begun to agitate the public mind in the past few weeks. Of primary importance, of course, was the Prime Minister's reference to Russia. Comment at home on this subject has been concerned with the possibilities of delay in assembling the Moscow Conference and a call for expediting the aid which is to be sent to the Russians. Mr. Churchill gave a reassurance. There would be no unavoidable delay in holding the conference and assistance to the Soviet was already being delivered, with more supplies now on their way. The Moscow Conference will lose no time in working out plans to accelerate this assistance, which, at the moment, was critical for the gallant Russian resistance.

INDIRECTLY, however, Britain has already been helping the Russians and Mr. Churchill touched on this aspect of British help when he referred to the sweeping raids being made by the R.A.F. on Germany and German-occupied territory in the west. Even as Mr. Churchill was speaking news was speaking of attacks on German convoys in the neighbourhood of Murmansk. Wherever a blow is dealt at the Germans it is as important for Britain's allies as it is for Britain herself, principally because it will delay the enemy's war effort and hinder his desperate attempts to avoid the grim prospect of waging winter operations against the Russian forces. These forces, now estimated at ten to fifteen million, must be kept supplied with equipment, more so now as a large part of their industry has been lost in the territory taken by the Germans. It is here that the Prime Minister's revelation about the huge decrease in the British and allied shipping losses is significant. It means that supplies from America are now becoming increasingly available and that Britain herself will be able to make sacrifices and contribute a large part of the shipments meant for her use to helping her Russian ally. Thus far, then, the Battle of the Atlantic gives cause for optimism, though Mr. Churchill did not forget to temper his encouraging words with a warning that German attempts to resume attacks on Atlantic shipping must be expected.

ONLY a brief reference was made in the Prime Minister's

NEW GOVERNOR TAKES OATHS OF OFFICE

Sir Mark Young Expresses Confident Expectations

Within 25 minutes of leaving Queen's Pier, His Excellency Sir Mark Young, arrived at the King's Theatre where he took the Oaths of Office.

Thousands of spectators gathered in the vicinity of King's Theatre, while many more crowded the windows and balconies of adjoining buildings.

Inside the Theatre there was a large and distinguished gathering present to witness the ceremony. The public seats were fully occupied.

On the arrival of His Excellency, accompanied by H.E. the O.A.G. (Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith), Captain S. H. Batty-Smith, A.D.C., and Mr. C. R. Lee, Acting Private Secretary, the band of the Royal Scots played the National Anthem.

Among those on the dais were His Excellency Major-General C. M. Maltby, M.C., His Honour the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, Rt. Rev. H. Valtorta, Hon. Capt. A. C. Collinson, R.N., Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North, Hon. Mr. R. R. Todd, Hon. Dr. P. S. Selwyn-Clarke, Hon. Mr. J. J. Paterson, Hon. Sir Robert Kotewall, Acting Group Captain T. S. Horry, R.A.F., Hon. Sir Vandevelde Grayburn, His Honour Mr. Justice P. E. F. Cressall, Hon. Mr. J. P. Pennefather-Evans, Sir Robert Ho Tung, Hon. Mr. A. B. Purves, Hon. Mr. D. J. Sloss, Hon. Mr. W. J. Carrie, Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, Hon. Mr. A. L. Shields, Hon. Mr. W. N. Thomas Tam and Hon. Mr. L. Tse-fong.

After Mr. A. G. Clarke, Clerk of Councils, had read the Proclamation, dated July 10, 1941, appointing Sir Mark Aitchison Young, K.C.M.G., to be Governor and Commander-in-Chief of Hongkong in succession to Sir Geoffrey Alexander Stafford Northcote, K.C.M.G., His Excellency took the Oaths which were administered by the Chief Justice.

HON. MR. J. J. PATERSON

The Hon. Mr. J. J. Paterson, Senior Unofficial Member of Councils, said:—

Your Excellency. On your arrival here to take the high office of Governor the residents of this Colony extend to you a whole-hearted welcome. Hongkong is small in area when compared to Tanganyika Territory; it has however always been of great consequence as a port and as an outpost of the British Empire, but never more so than today.

We know that you will very surely guide us along whatever path we may have to tread; Your Excellency can be assured of the loyal co-operation of all members speech to the Far East. The lack of information vouchsafed here might have some deep significance behind it, but when he said that at his meeting with President Roosevelt discussion had taken place on the necessity of stopping any further encroachment by Japan in the east, one was led to expect that plans for some drastic action to halt Japan would be announced. Perhaps, Mr. Churchill considers the subject sub judice, in view of the parleys that are taking place between the American and Japanese Governments, but the void in his speech regarding plans to help China, who is fighting practically a lone hand against the Japanese aggressors might cause some disappointment. Almost daily now, the world has been led to expect that an order from America and Britain to the Japanese to "clear out" of China and their most recent acquisition by aggression, Indo-China, might be issued. We feel that the time is just ripe now for such action and that Japan will not welcome the consequences of refusing to obey. Her present game of bluffing the Democracies into remaining in a state of preparedness must be ended and she herself must be made to choose between war and peace.

of this community, of every race and creed.

A Chinese translation of the address of welcome was read by the Hon. Sir Robert Kotewall, Kt.

His Excellency the Governor, Sir Mark Young, replying to the address of welcome in the King's Theatre yesterday. Also in the picture are H.E. Major-General C. M. Maltby, Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, His Honour Sir Atholl MacGregor, Hon. Capt. A. C. Collinson and Mr. M. J. Abbott. (King's Studio).

C.M.G., LL.D., Chinese Member of the Executive Council.

H.E.'S REPLY

Replying, His Excellency Sir Mark Young said:—

I thank you very warmly for the welcome that has been given to me today and for the sentiments expressed in the address which two of my official colleagues in the Legislative Council has just read.

I am, I assure you, very conscious of the great importance of this outpost of the British Empire, and have been so from my earliest days as an officer of the Colonial Service. I recognise too that, as you have observed in your address, the high place which the Colony of Hongkong has always held in the British Empire is not merely undiminished: its significance and the responsibilities which that significance brings have been augmented and enhanced by the world conditions of today.

Let me tell you in a very few words something of the expectations with which I have come to Hongkong.

To begin with the superficial, I have come expecting a scene of unrivalled beauty. There is no need for me to enlarge on the manner in which that expectation was more than fulfilled as my ship brought me into harbour a short while ago.

WELL FOUNDED

May my other expectations prove equally well founded. They should do so, for they are based on good authority. I have had valuable opportunities during my journey here of learning something about what is being done in these days in Hongkong, and it was with particular pleasure that I learned that I should find here in outstanding measure a quality which I for one rate more highly than any other quality which it is possible for a citizen of the British Empire to display at the present time.

I mean the quality of willing sacrifice and unwearying service in support of the cause for which the Empire is at war. In this respect I have brought with me, as I have explained, high and confident expectations.

And finally I have come with the sure expectation that the difficulties of my work in and for Hongkong are going to be lightened by that co-operation of which I have today most gladly and gratefully received your assurances.

Ladies and Gentlemen I thank you again for your kind and friendly welcome.

Government Gazette Extraordinary

The following Hongkong Government Gazette was published yesterday:—

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

No. 1085.—It is hereby notified that His Excellency Sir Mark Aitchison Young, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, having arrived in the Colony, the prescribed oaths of office were this day duly administered to His Excellency by His Honour the Chief Justice in the presence of the Executive Council, and that His Excellency thereupon assumed the administration of the Government in virtue of His Majesty's Commission.

WHY HITLER DECIDED TO ATTACK RUSSIA: GRAVITY OF THINGS AT STAKE

"What has Herr Hitler achieved in the weeks of fighting on the Eastern front and what are his present plans? These questions were answered yesterday by MAJOR LEWIS HASTINGS, military commentator of the B.B.C. when he broadcast from London.

"News is never quite so bad or quite so good as it is painted," began Major Hastings, "and this week I have a strong sense of the gravity of the things at stake. The full courage of the Russian resistance reinforces that feeling of urgency."

HERE AND NOW

"President Roosevelt some time ago, in one of his speeches, used the phrase 'rendezvous of destiny.' Somehow, a great many of us feel that that rendezvous is here and now."

"The question that is being asked everywhere is: Why did Herr Hitler attack Russia at all at this time? We all know that he promised his people a short war and we also know that he had privately instructed Goering to prepare for a war of five years duration."

"Although I am sure that Herr Hitler did not relish that possibility, I believe that he foresaw that his promise to end the war in 1941 was based on imagination and that he would have to face the prospect of a protracted struggle in spite of his victories. He knew that his European resources would be inadequate for this, so he made up his mind to strike at Russia, hoping that his victorious forces would be able to bring him the coal, oil, machinery and strategic positions needed to increase his war potential."

LOOKING BACK

"Looking back now on the course of his campaign, what has he accomplished? By ordinary military standards very much—very much, indeed. The Germans have won great victories. They have already occupied territory far greater than Germany itself. They have captured a not unimportant section of the Russian industrial machine and are threatening her vital manufacturing areas."

"But we have to penetrate the Nazi mind and his real war aim to see what he is thinking. I am prepared to believe that Herr Hitler is facing the necessity for a long war, but I am certain that he never contemplated a long war with Russia. Russia was destined to provide for him and without loss to the German war machine, the means for his final blow."

"Judge for yourselves as time goes on how that inner group of Nazi criminals are looking at the losses suffered during this campaign in men, material and time."

THE BATTLE-FRONT

"And now here are a few words to describe the present phase of the battle. The supreme German attempt is still concentrated on Leningrad, but fierce fighting continues along the whole front. The figures of the forces taking part is an indication of the unprecedented masses that are engaged, but it also shows the truth of the inquest held on the last war."

"Both von Hindenburg and his other generals said then that while the Germans gained considerable successes in 1914-15, real strategic victory always eluded their grasp. The huge distances involved in the fighting prevented the German General Staff from sending sufficient reinforcements."

"It is quite clear that the Germans this time are determined not to see this story repeated if they can. In spite of the concentration on Leningrad, they have not weakened their forces at any point along the whole front."

Major Hastings went on to say that the extensive mechanisation of modern armies did not, however, help to accelerate the transport of large bodies of ground troops. This was particularly apparent in Russia where there were not natural communications and the difference between 1914 and 1941 campaigns was therefore very great. But the air forces of today had made speed more effective than in the last war.

CRITICAL WEEKS

"Reading between the lines," continued Major Hastings, "the Germans themselves seem to doubt whether they can capture Leningrad, but I don't say that their failure to do so will alter their offensive plans. They may be content with an investment of the town, leaving enough forces to hold Marshal Voroshilov's army, while they concentrate their thrusts in the south. The Gomel sector, for instance, is of primary importance to them, because success there would give them a flanking advantage to march into the industrial areas and descend on Marshal Budenny's army."

"These are critical weeks. Winter will not put an end to the German offensive, but it will exercise some effect on their mechanised tactics and winter will be worth more than a new army to Russia," concluded Major Hastings.

CHINESE SEAMEN UNEMPLOYED

Some 10,000 Chinese seamen who formerly worked on British, American, Dutch and Danish ships plying between America and the Far East are now out of job and in dire need of help.

Adding to their plight is the fact that they are unable to return to China, either because they lack funds or because their home towns are under Japanese occupation.

A delegation of these seamen, it is learned, will shortly call on Mr. Liu Wei-chi, Minister of Overseas Affairs now visiting in Hongkong, to ask for measures for their relief. Meanwhile, a registration of them will be held as a preliminary step to appeal to the proper authorities for aid.

These seamen were mostly forced out of employment as many British, Dutch and Danish ships formerly on the Pacific run were compelled to change course after the outbreak of the European war and therefore no longer required their services. American labour restrictions have also been responsible for their unemployment. Three thousand and five hundred of these seamen were formerly employed on British ships, 4,000 on American ships, 500 on Dutch ships while over 300 on Danish ships. They are mostly natives of Watsung and Po On Kwangtung.

Meanwhile Chinese seamen serving on foreign ships on the Far Eastern runs are carrying on their work unaffected. (Central News).

SINO-SOVIET CULTURAL ASSOCIATION: BRANCH INAUGURATED IN H.K.

With the object of promoting closer cultural relations between China and Soviet Russia—and also Britain—through co-operation with the Sino-Soviet Cultural Association—a Hongkong Branch of the Sino-Soviet Cultural Association was inaugurated yesterday evening under the sponsorship of Dr. Sun Fo, President of the Legislative Yuan and president of the Association in Chungking, at a tea-reception at the Chinese Merchants' Club attended by over 80 members.

Dr. W. W. Yen, former Chinese Ambassador to Moscow, was elected President of the Hongkong association, with Madame Sun Yat-sen and Mr. Li Shih-tseng as Honorary Presidents. Those elected to the Board of 21 Directors included Mr. Wang Yun-wu, Editor-in-Chief of the Commercial Press, Ltd., Mr. Kan Chieh-hou, formerly Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs, Dr. John C. Wu, Mr. Wen Yuan-min, Mr. Chen Han-seng, Mr. Shen Chih-yuan and Mr. Ke I-hung.

DOUBLE SIGNIFICANCE

In his introductory remarks sponsoring the association Dr. Sun Fo stressed the double significance of such an association in Hongkong. Firstly, China being unable to extend material help to Soviet Russia in her hour of crisis, like Britain and America are, doing the Chinese will do everything possible to give Soviet Russia their moral support. Secondly, since the organisation of such an association in Hongkong would have been impossible three years ago, its inauguration today therefore meant the materialisation of closer affinity between China, Britain and Soviet Russia.

Soviet Russia, Dr. Sun pointed out, was the first friendly power to extend willingly a helping hand to China at the beginning of China's war against aggression.

BATTLE FOR LENINGRAD

GERMAN ENCIRCLEMENT OF LENINGRAD IS NOT CONFIRMED IN LONDON

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Reuters)—There was no confirmation here yesterday of the German claim to have surrounded Leningrad and captured Schlüsselburg.

The capture of Yelnya, announced by the Soviets, is regarded as proof of the strength of the counter-attacks of the Russians in the central region. Yelnya is a few miles south-east of Smolensk.

The German radio is still referring to the Soviet counter-attacks as "launched with minor forces and being repulsed with severe losses."

RESTRICTED EXPORT OF FIREWOOD

Singapore's supply of firewood and charcoal is being seriously threatened by an abnormal increase in exports.

It has therefore been decided that with effect from Sept. 1, export of firewood and charcoal from Singapore to places abroad shall be restricted on the basis of average monthly exports in 1939-1940.

Removal of firewood or charcoal to the mainland of Malaya or to Penang will be illegal, and permits for export by sea to places abroad will be granted only in accordance with allotted quotas. Permits will be granted only on presentation of duly completed export declaration at the Imports and Exports Office.

All intending exporters of firewood or charcoal should apply to the Imports and Exports Office not later than Sept. 15, for allocation of their quotas, submitting a statement of their actual exports during the January/August 1939 period.

An order under the Defence Regulations is being gazetted, giving force to the above decisions.

Behind the German lines unrelenting warfare continues and Moscow radio says that in many districts masters of the situation are guerrillas rather than Nazis.

The town of Porkov, scene of severe fighting some weeks ago when the Germans were making a thrust from Pskov to the region south of Lake Ilmen, has just been visited by guerrillas.

They destroyed the German ammunition and fuel dumps and set fire to the Nazis' hay stores.

An alarm was sounded and Germans ran to the spot where they saw the fire and heard shots but no one was there. The guerrillas had entered the town from the other end in force and this was only the decoy party.

While the Nazis were dealing with the fire the main party was despatching German guards and shortly afterwards there was a terrific explosion as petrol dumps and ammunition stores blew up.

U.S. Vessel Torpedoed Off Iceland

BELATED REPORT OF INCIDENT: TWENTY-FOUR MEMBERS OF CREW MISSING AND PRESUMED LOST

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (Reuters)—The former Danish ship SESSA which the Maritime Commission took over and which is now flying the Pan-American flag, has been sunk 300 miles south-west of Iceland, the State Department announces.

The announcement said the State Department had been informed by the Navy Department that on Sept. 6 the Navy picked up three of the crew from the Sessa who said that the Sessa was torpedoed and sunk on Aug. 17. There were thus 24 of the crew missing and presumed lost.

The announcement said there was one unidentified American among the missing crew.

The Sessa, which was acquired from the Danish Government when idle foreign ships in the United States waters were taken over, was transporting supplies to the Iceland Government.

The announcement added that the cargo included "food-stuffs, cereals, lumber and other general cargo and did not include arms, ammunition or implements of war."

STEEL SEAFARER
Meanwhile, the Maritime Commission reported the Steel Seafarer which was sunk in the Red Sea was bombed on Friday. The crew, comprising the Captain and 35 men, are officially reported safe.

The Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, at a Press conference said he thought there was no question about who attacked the Sessa which was owned and operated by the United States but added that he wanted to obtain complete facts before making any pronouncement.

He added that there was a variety of nationals aboard including a few Americans, but not yet ascertained how many.

GERMANY RESPONSIBLE?

There is reason to believe that the loss of the two American ships—the Steel Seafarer and the Sessa—were at German hands and the attack on the Greer are leading to changes in the American policy.

The Sessa incident is regarded here as even more important than the other two.

The Sessa was undoubtedly carrying food-stuffs and lumber to Iceland and the Icelandic Government who owned the cargo and not to the British American garrisons there.

The fact that she was carrying the flag of Panama was likely to make little difference to the reactions in the United States as she was American-owned and in the process of changing from Panamanian to American registry.

There was much speculation as to why the news of her loss was held up so long.

LONG OVERDUE

Reuters learns that last Thursday, the American Marine Radio Station in Iceland broadcast that the Sessa was long overdue and believed to have been torpedoed. No British or American station appears to have picked up this item and when the State Department announced the loss yesterday it came as a bombshell.

It is thought probable that the news was held up pending receipt of further details from the survivors.

Reuters understands from a good source that the President would have announced the loss in his broadcast on Monday night which was postponed owing to the death of his mother and when he broadcasts tomorrow he is likely to announce the loss.

Mr. Churchill's plea for further naval assistance.

Indeed, Mr. Churchill was answered before he spoke for the speech was completed for delivery on Monday.

INVOLABLE SEA LANE
It is understood here that the President will state that owing to Nazi attacks on American vessels there will be a change in the Atlantic patrol policy.

Well-informed circles believe he will announce an inviolable sea lane between the United States and Iceland and declare any hostile warcraft found there will be "eliminated." In other words, any German submarine, surface craft or plane entering this zone will do so at the risk of instant destruction by American naval forces.

A mere entry into the zone, it is understood, would be regarded as an act of hostility calling for destruction of the invading craft.

The width of this sea lane is now known but it is fair to guess it will be generous enough to ensure absolute safety for all supplies for Britain between the United States and Iceland.

BLITZ ARTISTS PAINT FOR U.S.

By Overseas Daily Mail Reporter
British artists are busy putting blitzed London on canvas. The American demand for such paintings is rising, and they hope to capture this market.

The ruined Temple—known and loved by thousands of American visitors to London—is a favourite spot with these blitz artists.

Mr. Frank Beresford, the portrait painter, did an interior of Middle Temple Hall before the wreckage was cleared away. He has also painted the damaged part of St. Paul's.

Clearance work in the Temple still goes on, and the demolition men have unearthed many valuable legal documents, which at first were feared to be lost.

The famous Inner Temple library and its 70,000 law books are practically unharmed.

AN UNINTERRUPTED DELIVERY SERVICE

According to one of the latest anecdotes from Norway, a young sailor in Bergen was sitting on his front porch reading a day-old copy of the London TIMES when along came an agent of the Gestapo.

The mere sight of this newspaper was enough to enrage the German, but when he discovered how recent its date was, his wrath boiled over in guttural invective.

"How did you get possession of that verboten and verdant paper?"

"Get it?" calmly replied the sailor. "I didn't GET it, I subscribe to it."

State Of Emergency Proclaimed In Oslo

OSLO, Sept. 10 (Reuters)—Severe restrictions on the NORWEGIAN public are laid down in a decree issued in OSLO by the Reich Commissioner, Herr Terboven, where a state of emergency is proclaimed.

According to the Stavanger Radio, it ordered that henceforth, in the districts of Oslo, Asker and Veron, where "Communists and Marxist elements in trade unions, and particularly in their administration, have recently been disturbing and who work in a criminal manner by the preparation of strikes," a curfew will be introduced from 8 p.m. until 5 a.m.

In connexion with the declaration of a state of emergency, the following regulations have been issued:—

"It is forbidden to interfere with work in any way, to instigate strikes and to take part in them. All transport, excepting railways, is to stop at 7 p.m."

"The sale and serving of alcoholic drinks is prohibited. All dancing entertainments are prohibited. Cinemas and theatres are to remain closed."

CROWDS FORBIDDEN

"It is forbidden to foregather in buildings or in the open. The formation of crowds in public streets and squares is forbidden."

"Instructions from officials responsible for peace and order are to be obeyed under all circumstances. Opposition will be broken up by force."

Herr Terboven's order concludes: "Anyone resisting these orders will be brought before a court-martial. I appeal to the population to maintain peace and order and to carry on with their daily work. Anyone who desires peace and order is under the protection of the authorities."

SLAUGHTER & EXPORT OF GOATS

The slaughter of goats within, and the export of goats without, the boundaries of the Island of Singapore and the Settlements of Penang and Malacca, except with the requisite permit, are prohibited.

An exception is made in the case of the slaughter of goats for the use of troops.

These prohibitions are made under the Defence Regulations, and another ruling under these Regulations empowers the Veterinary Officers of the three Settlements to requisition any goat.

Any goat so requisitioned must, if required by the necessary authority, be delivered at a specified firm, date or place.

Mr. H. F. Old, of the Urban Council, has reported to the police that a parcel of clothing, valued at $12.50, was stolen from his car No. 8529 parked in the Old City Hall car park.

Working Together To Do Our Bare Duty

WIFE IN CEYLON

I have come to Hongkong, as you know, unaccompanied by my wife who, with my daughters, remains in Ceylon awaiting a day to which I know many of my listeners are looking forward with an eagerness equal to my own.

The subject of the enforced absence of the wives and families of the British community resident in Hongkong, is, I know, exercising the minds as it is affecting the lives of many of you. It is a subject of which much might be said but for today I will confine myself to giving all those on whom the order for evacuation has brought hardship, including those who feel that there may have been inequalities in its incidence, an assurance of my very lively interest and sympathy, and of my hope that the separations which so many of us are required to endure may be quickly ended.

A week ago it must have been recalled to all your minds that we are entering upon the third year of the war. Your memories must have carried you back to that day in 1939 when, with anxious hearts, and yet with a feeling akin to relief in our minds, we realised that there was to be no more parley with the monstrous evil that is Nazi Germany.

COURAGE AND TENACITY

Since then, through two years of varying fortunes, of the deepest disappointments and then again of success beyond our expectations, of sympathy with the sufferers from German hideous methods of waging war, and of unbounded admiration for the superb achievements of our fighting forces and for the courage and tenacity of our civilian population—through all these experiences Hongkong, herself hitherto remote from actual conflict, has, I am assured, been standing in singleness of purpose and readiness of hand to take every opportunity that presents itself in sharing in the common burden.

It will be my task to familiarise myself with all that is being done by the people of this Colony to assist the Empire in its need, and it will be my privilege to join you, as far as lies in my power, in maintaining and augmenting the Colony's war effort.

Whatever the future may bring, whether war itself comes to our waters and our shores or whether it remains far off, there is a clear call for everyone of us, and in our response to it no effort can be too great, no burden too heavy for our shoulders.

CLAIMS CO-OPERATION

I have been promised today the co-operation of all members of the communities resident in this Colony. I shall constantly and incessantly claim the fulfilment of that promise, for I am convinced that it is only by working together, and by working with all our might, that we can do our bare duty in this crisis of human affairs, and it is only so that we shall be able to stand up as free men in the years to come, joint bearers of the grievous burden that Hitler's aggression has laid upon the world, worthy to help our comrades to bear that burden, worthy to play a part in this vital struggle, and worthy to share in the coming victory.

WIN FOR HOME SECRETARIES

An ex-Army officer who was detained under the Defence Regulations for 164 days lost his action in the High Court against two Home Secretaries.

He is Mr. John Roland Smeaton Stuart, and he sued Sir John Anderson for wrongful detention and Mr. Herbert Morrison, who revoked the detention order, for limiting his movements and obliging him to report changes of address to the police.

Mr. Justice Tucker said it was undesirable to go into the merits of the case, but that there was clear evidence on which the Home Secretary might properly have exercised his discretion.

Mr. Stuart had not satisfied him that the Home Secretary did not apply his mind to every essential matter in the case.

WIFE GAOLED FOR AIDING DESERTER

A wife of 22, Mrs. Catherine Mary Latham, of Sussex-gardens, W., was sentenced at Horsham, Sussex, to three months' hard labour for helping her husband to desert from the Army.

A London taxi-driver told the court how his cab was engaged by Mrs. Latham on a recent morning. They had breakfast together, and he then drove her to Salford, near Horsham.

She left the cab and told him to return in 20 minutes. He did so, and Mrs. Latham and a soldier got in. The soldier jumped out later and vanished into a field, and Mrs. Latham left the cab shortly after.

C.I.D. MAN PRISONER

Reported missing in the Middle East since early April, Staff Sergeant J. A. Barker, R.A.S.C., a former C.I.D. official of Wood Green police, has written to his parents at Palmer's Green, and to his wife that he is a prisoner of war in Italy.

COMPREHENSIVE REVIEW OF WAR SITUATION

to secure from us recognition of his illegal regime, Raschid Ali pretended to welcome the arrival of our troops."

PROGRESS TRACED

Mr. Churchill traced the progress of operation in Iraq and said that Raschid Ali appealed constantly to the Germans to fulfil their promises but only 30 or 40 German aeroplanes arrived from Syria and endeavoured tentatively to instal themselves to Baghdad and in the north at Mosul.

There was an explanation of this German failure. The German parachute air-borne corps, which was doubtless to have operated in Iraq and would have been assisted on their journey across Syria by the Vichy French, had been largely exterminated in the Battle of Crete. Over 4,000 of these specialist troops were killed and very large numbers of aircraft carriers were destroyed. This specialist corps was scuttled in the ferocious fighting that although they forced us to evacuate Crete they were in no condition for further operations.

With the new Iraqi Government we have been able to return to a basis of friendly co-operation which we propose to follow. The Treaty is now being loyally observed on both sides. There are still dangers in Iraq which require attention but cause for no major anxiety.

The Germans' intrigue with the Vichy French in Syria had meanwhile been in full swing and the Vichy French Governor General Dentz in a base and treacherous manner was striving his utmost to further German interests.

Our armies in Greece had been evacuated, having lost much equipment.

Our western front in Cirenica had been beaten in by an incursion of General von Rommel's German African Corps and we had a revolt in Iraq to suppress. Nevertheless we found it possible in conjunction with the Free French, to invade Syria. The Free French fought gallantly in co-operation with our forces which ultimately reached the equivalent of about four divisions. Australian and Indian troops distinguished themselves repeatedly in action.

CYPRUS AND LEVANT

The occupation of Syria by the Army of the Nile carried with it the means of securing the safety of Cyprus and all this part of the Levant came into a far more satisfactory position.

Our naval and air control over the eastern end of the Mediterranean became effective and we obtained direct contact with our Turkish friends and control of the pipeline and other resources.

"We have no ambitions in Syria. We do not seek to replace or supplant France or substitute British for French interests in any part of Syria. We are only in Syria to win. However, I must make it clear that our policy to which our Free French Allies have subscribed, is that Syria shall be handed back to the Syrians who will assume at the earliest possible moment their independent sovereign rights. We do not propose that the process of creating an independent Syrian Government or governments shall wait until the end of the war. We contemplate constantly increasing the Syrians' share in administration.

"There is no question of France maintaining the same post on which she exercised in Syria before the war and which the French Government had realised must come to an end. On the other hand, we recognise that among all European nations, the position of France in Syria is one of special privilege and so far as any European countries have influence in Syria, that of France will be preminent. We did not go to Syria to deprive France of her long historic position there except insofar as is necessary to fulfil our obligations to the Syrian population.

"There must be no question even in wartime of mere substitution of Free French interests for Vichy French interests.

"I was asked a question about our relations with Iraq. They are special and our relations with Egypt are special in the same way. I conceive that France will have special arrangements with Syria. The independence of Syria is the prime feature in our policy.

VAIN BOASTS

"Meanwhile on the eastern flank of the Army of the Nile, the army struck two heavy blows at German and Italian forces which have recaptured Cyrenaica. These forces found themselves unable to advance upon Egypt as had been foreseen without destroying the stronghold of Tobruk, which was firmly held by Australian and British troops.

"Heavy attacks by our forces in the Western Desert in the middle of May and June, while they did not succeed as we hoped in forcing the enemy to retreat, played a great part in bringing him to a standstill.

"All the widely circulated German boasts that they would be in Suez by the end of May have thus proved to be in vain.

"Powerful reinforcements have reached the Army of the Nile in the interval and I feel considerable confidence that we shall be able to defend Egypt successfully from a German invasion across the Western Desert. Thus the position both on the western and eastern flanks of the Nile Valley has been greatly improved. A marked recovery has been made from the unfortunate setback coming after the victories over the Italians at the beginning of April. Altogether we are entitled to be content with these favourable developments. Now I turn to a far wider field.

"The magnificent resistance of the Russian armies and the skillful manner in which their vast front is being withdrawn in the teeth of the Nazi invasion makes it certain that Hitler's hopes of a short war with Russia will be dispelled. Already in three months, he has lost more German blood than was shed in any single year of the last war. Already he faces the certainty of having to maintain his armies on the whole front from the Arctic to the Black Sea at the end of long, inadequate, assailed and precarious lines of communication through all the severity of the Russian winter with vigorous counter-strokes which may be expected from the Russian Army.

"From the moment that Russia was attacked, we have cast about for every means of giving the most speedy and effective help to our new ally. Discussions of military projects which have been examined would be harmful. Nor will it be possible arguments on such questions.

URGENT NEED

"In the field of supply more can be said. I agreed with President Roosevelt upon the message which was sent to M. Stalin. The need is urgent and the scale is heavy. A considerable part of the munitions and iron and steel production of Russia has fallen into enemy hands. On the other hand, the Soviet disposes of from 10 to 15 million soldiers for nearly all of whom they have equipment and arms.

"To aid in the supply of these masses to enable them to realise their long continuing force and to organise the operation of their supplies will be the task of the Anglo-American-Russian Conference. There has been no avoidable delay in arranging for this conference or in choosing the personnel of the British Mission. Some people speak as though nothing was being done. A study of the whole problem has been ceaselessly proceeding in the United States and here, and we are waiting the arrival of the American Mission under Mr. Averell Harriman which I trust will soon be here.

"Our Mission will be headed by Lord Beaverbrook, who has already been in close conference with the President. We already have a military mission with officers of high rank in Moscow. Those whom Lord Beaverbrook takes with him will, therefore, supplement those who are already there. The names are already selected and will be published in due course. It is obviously undesirable to announce the date the Mission will start for the conference but no time will be lost.

"Meanwhile many very important emergency decisions are being taken and large supplies are on the way. We must be prepared for serious sacrifices in the munitions field to meet Russia's needs (Cheers). The utmost exertion will be required from all concerned in production not only to help Russia but to fill the gaps which must now be opened in our long-sought and at last arriving supply.

FULL FLOOD

"Everything given to Russia is subtracted from what we are making ourselves or in part at least from what would have been sent us by the United States. The flow of our own production in Britain and the Empire is still rising. It will reach full flood during the third year of wartime munitions production.

"If the United States are to fulfil the task they have set themselves, very large installations will have to be established or converted and there will have to be further curtailment of civilian consumption over there as they fully recognise. We may ourselves expect a definite reduction in military supplies from America, on which we had counted, but within certain limits we are prepared to accept those facts.

"Our limiting factors like time, distance and geography impose themselves upon us. There are limitations of transport and harbour facilities. Above all there is the limitation of shipping.

"Only three routes are open—the Arctic by Archangel which may be hampered by winter ice; the Far Eastern route via Vladivostok which is scowled upon by the Japanese and operates over 7,000 miles of railway lines; and the route across Persia which leads over a 500-miles stretch from the Persian Gulf into the great inland sea, the Caspian, upon which the Russians maintain a strong naval force and which gives access to the very heart of Russia, namely the Volga Basin.

"The Germans were of course busy betimes in Persia with their usual tricks. German tourists, missions and diplomats were subsidising the people and government with the object of creating a fifth column which would dominate the Government of Teheran and not only seize or destroy oil fields which are of the highest consequence but—a fact to which I attach extreme importance—to close the surest and shortest route whereby we could reach Russia.

DEMANDS ON IRAN

"We thought it necessary, therefore, to ensure that these machinations did not succeed. Accordingly we demanded from the Persian Government the immediate expulsion of their Teutonic visitors. We must have the surrender into our hands of all Germans and Italians who are on the premises (Cheers). We must have the expulsion of the German and Italian Legations whose diplomatic status we of course respect.

"We must have unquestioned control and maintenance of through communications from the warm-water port of Basra to the Caspian Sea (Cheers). It is from this point particularly that American supplies can be carried into the centre of Russia in an ever-widening flow—and British supplies as well.

"Every effort will be made to improve railway communications and expand the volume of supplies which can be transported over the existing British gauge railway which has happily only recently been completed and now requires only a large access of rolling stock and locomotives to expand it greatly as a line of supply.

"I have no doubt the House will approve the somewhat drastic measures we thought it right to take to achieve those important objects (Cheers) and further measures we may have to take.

"The occupation of Persia enables us to join hands with the southern flanks of the Russian army and to bring into action there both military and air forces.

IMPORTANT OBJECTS

"It also serves important British objects in presenting a shield which should bar the eastward advance of the German invader.

"In this, the armies of India, whose military quality becomes shiningly apparent, will play an increasing part and in so doing will keep the source of war a thousand miles or more from the homes of the peoples of India.

"One must therefore expect that very considerable deployments of British and Indian forces and Australian forces, and probably the Dominion forces gradually manifest themselves in this enormous and desolate and ill-developed region.

"The Allied front now runs in an immense crescent from Spitzbergen in the Arctic to Tobruk in the Western Desert, and our section of this front will be held by British and Empire armies, with their growing strength, fed and equipped by ocean-borne supplies from Britain, the U.S., India and Australia.

"I am glad to say that adequate naval power will be at hand both in the Atlantic and Indian Oceans

HOUSE OF LORDS STATEMENT

SOVIET RESISTANCE WARMLY PRAISED

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—In the House of Lords Lord Moyne made a statement similar to that of Mr. Churchill.

Referring to Russia he said: "Little was known in peace-time about the war machine of Soviet Russia but all the world must now be amazed at their resolution in defence and determination in counter-attack which show not only brilliant leadership in control of such vast armies but unsurpassed military qualities of the Russian people (Cheers)."

"Goebbels shows poor appreciation of German intelligence when he now announces that operations are proceeding according to plan. The German spear-heads have been burned up in the ferocity of resistance of irregular hands."

Moyne went on: "I cannot discuss future plans but some of the advice given us would not in any way help Russia in her struggle. The scorched earth policy and the prospect of a Russian winter are likely to be as effective today as they were against Napoleon in 1812. The conditions are not unlike what followed the battle of Fraulagar. We then took advantage of British sea-power to hit where the enemy were least able to retaliate. Today we are substituting the Middle East for Spain as the open ulcer. We have turned it into Hitler's ulcer by means of sea power and American munitions. We hope it will be developed into a mortal wound."

MR. W. J. KESWICK

SINGAPORE, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—Mr. W. J. Keswick, formerly Chairman of the Shanghai Municipal Council, who arrived with Mr. Duff-Cooper, is Reuter learns, Mr. Duff-Cooper's Deputy.

to secure the sea routes against attack.

SOLID IMPROVEMENT

"If we now look back for a moment we can measure the solid improvement in our position in the Middle East or the East which has been achieved since the French suddenly fell out of the war and the Italians made haste so eagerly to come in against us.

"At that date all we had in those parts was about 80,000 to 100,000 men, starved of munitions and equipment, which had been sent to the French front—always first to claim the best we had.

"We had lost our means of safe communication through the Mediterranean and almost all the main bases on which we relied.

"We were anxiously concerned for our defences of Nairobi, Khartoum, British Somaliland and, above all, of the Nile Valley and Palestine, including the famous cities of Cairo and Jerusalem.

"None was safe, but nevertheless, after little more than a year, we have managed to gather very large and well-equipped armies which already begin to approach 750,000, supplied with masses of equipment of all kinds.

"We have developed an air force there almost as large as we had in Britain when war began, and it is rapidly expanding.

"We have conquered the whole Italian Empire in Abyssinia and Eritrea and killed or taken prisoner Italian armies of over 400,000 men by which those regions were defended.

"We have defended the frontiers of Egypt against German and Italian attacks. We have consolidated our position in Palestine and Iraq.

EFFECTIVE CONTROL

"We have taken effective control of Syria and provided for the security of Cyprus.

"Finally, by the swift and vigorous campaign in Persia, we have joined hands with our Russian allies and stand in line to bar the further eastward progress of the enemy.

"Whatever the future may contain, these are achievements which will earn the respect of history.

"Thus far have we travelled along the terrible road we chose at the call of duty. (The mood of Britain is rightly and wisely averse from every form of premature exultation. This is not the time for boasts or glowing prophecies but there is this—a year ago our position looked forlorn and well nigh desperate to all eyes but our own.

"Today we may say before an awestruck world 'We are still the master of our fate. We are still the captain of our soul!'"

U.S. PUBLIC OPINION REGARDING JAPAN

According to a Gallup poll nationwide survey, 70 per cent. of Americans think that the United States should take steps now to keep Japan from becoming more powerful even if this means risking war with Japan.

The July survey showed that 51 per cent. of Americans were willing to risk war with Japan but the present study indicates a substantial stiffening of American public opinion regarding Japan.

Americans regard Japanese expansion in the South Pacific as a definite threat to America's position in the Pacific and menace American sources of rubber, tin and other materials.

The Gallup study disclosed that the western States show considerably more concern about Japanese moves than other sections but the South is equally belligerent with regard to Japan, while the "Isolationists" Mid-west opinions are apparently running strongly for decisive steps.

The survey concludes that the result of the present survey indicates that Americans in general approve Washington's pacific policy.—(Central News)

MUKDEN INCIDENT

Preparations are being made in Chungking to observe the 10th anniversary of the Mukden Incident on September 18.

Natives of the four Japanese occupied provinces of Liaoning, Kirin, Heilungkiang and Jehol resident in the wartime capital will hold a meeting on the occasion when they will reiterate their determination to fight back to their homeland and restore all lost territory.—(Central News)

TRANSIT DUES ABOLISHED

RANGOON, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—All transit dues on goods consigned to China under the Lease-Lend Act will be abolished as from Sept. 3. It is officially announced.

In order that the revenues of Burma shall not suffer, the Government of Burma will be reimbursed by suitable subvention from His Majesty's Government of Great Britain.

SIX FRENCHMEN SENTENCED

BERLIN, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—Six Frenchmen, described as Communists, were sentenced on Monday by the Special Tribunal for the suppression of Communist activity, according to a Paris dispatch to the official German news agency. Five were sentenced to from two to five years' imprisonment, and one to seven years' penal servitude.

"Tse-fa" Flourishing Again In The Colony: Amendment Of Gambling Ord. The Only Means To Eradicate Racket

BY A STAFF REPORTER

"Tse-fa" that abnoxious form of swindling which goes under the name of gambling, which was driven underground through the energetic and determined drive instituted by the Police after the appearance of an article in the Hongkong Daily Press of Feb. 6 last, has once again assumed such proportions as to be deserving of prompt and systematic Police action.

Rumours of its revival began to circulate early in July—two months after the local Press had proudly announced that "by determined action by the Police, this swindle has, at last, been eradicated."

Investigations made at that time revealed that it was only being conducted on a very minor scale and as a sort of trial balloon to test the vigilance of the guardians of the Law.

Escaping attention, "tse-fa" has gone from strength to strength until it has now, once again, assumed such proportions as to give rise to the suspicion that the same syndicate which monopolised the running of this form of swindling is behind this new racket.

AGENCIES RE-OPENED

When it first made its reappearance, depots were opened only in outlying and rural districts and bets for small amounts only were accepted. Encouraged by their success, the organisers have re-opened many of their former depots, or agencies.

The betting-slip, reproduced on this page, was issued by one of these depots on Tuesday night. The difference between the present slip and those issued in the early part of this year is that the former bears a serial number and the amount of the bet or bets are clearly indicated, whereas previously the amount of the bet was only given by vertical strokes, each of which represented ten cents. The name of the issuing depot is "chopped" on the back of the new slips.

As stated in our previous articles, "tse-fa" is so strongly financed that it could afford to sneer at any fine which a magistrate might impose, even up to the maximum of $1,000. In order to guard against its revival, after it had been cradicated by the Police, it would be advisable for the law officers of the Crown to so amend the Gaming Ordinance as to permit of the IMPOSITION OF A HEAVY GAOL SENTENCE IN ADDITION TO A HEAVIER MAXI-MUM FINE, and for the magistrates to impose the maximum in all cases.

EARLY ACTION NEEDED

As the Unofficials drew the attention of Government to the seriousness of this type of gambling, at the Budget Debate on Feb. 20, so must they again draw Government's immediate and most serious attention to its resurrection and to its evil effect on the moral and financial structure of the Colony's economic and social life.

Unless its revival is nipped in the bud, "tse-fa" will once more have within its coils Chinese men and women from all walks of life, and bring in its train another suicide wave.

PHILIPPINE BUSINESS MAGNATE IN COLONY

Visiting Hongkong at the moment is a leading business magnate and financier of the Philippine Commonwealth, SENOR VICENTE MADRIGAL, who travelled here with another leading Philippines figure, DR. CARLOS P. ROMULO, publisher and editor-in-chief of the D.M.H.M. Newspaper Group.

Senor Madrigal, who is one of the few multi-millionaires in the Philippines, has immense interests all over the Islands and his business activities include steamships, real estate, copra and oil, sugar, cement, and the lumber trade. His interests do not end with business, and he is prominent in politics, sport and public welfare work.

SOLE OWNERSHIP

Senor Madrigal is sole owner of Madrigal and Co., which owns practically all of the 28 inter-Island and trans-Pacific steamers in the Philippines of local ownership, and his holdings also include the sole ownership of the Rizal Cement Company, the Philippine Cotton Mills, a string of Philippine newspapers, the Port Lamon Lumber Co., the Calamba Sugar Estates, which he recently purchased for $7,000,000 pesos, and a considerable amount of real estate. He is also the biggest copra and oil dealer and merchant in the Commonwealth.

President of the Philippine Chamber of Commerce, Senor Madrigal was recently nominated Nationalista candidate for the Philippines Senate.

OPEN BRANCH HERE

Senor Madrigal's present visit here, which is not his first, is primarily for the purpose of "looking things over," as his intention, he stated in an interview yesterday, is to open a branch office here and to purchase a residence on the Peak. He is also "looking over" three of his steamers which are at present here in dry-dock. He would not discuss the Philippines position in the Far Eastern situation, but predicts an Allied victory in the present war.

Dr. Carlos Romulo is a Vice-President of Rotary International and may be the guest next Tuesday of the Hongkong Rotary Club. If he will not by then left the Colony on a round-trip he is making of the neighbouring countries to the Philippines.

MASS AMERICAN WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Many First Round Surprises

BROOKLYN, Sept. 10 (Reuter).—The mass American women's golf championship had many first round surprises, the chief of which was the elimination of Betty Jameson, title-holder.

Grace Amory, Jean Bauer and Alice Berlinger, who shared with Miss Jameson the lead in the previous day's qualifying round, were also beaten in the first match stage, but Miss Jameson's exit was near sensational because she held what seemed to be the winning lead of four holes at half-way.

NOTHING RIGHT

The champion took only 38 strokes in those nine holes and her opponent, bespectacled Janet Younker, could do nothing right.

After rds, Miss Jameson played well enough but Miss Younker staged an amazing recovery, taking only 34 strokes in the last nine holes to overhaul the champion and win on the last green by one hole.

Mrs. Page, former champion, played 19 holes before beating Mrs. Patton, but Mrs. Vane, better known as Glena Collett, Maureen O'Neill and Marion Milley, three Curtis Cup players, all had easy wins with four holes to spare.

WOMAN VICTIMISED

About 7 o'clock yesterday morning a Chinese woman, whilst on her way to the Western Market, had her gold wrist watch forcibly snatched away from her by a young thief. The snatcher made good his escape before help could be summoned.

China's Relations With Canada, Czecho-Slovakia Reviewed

China's foreign relations with Canada and Czechoslovakia and the Government's measures for financial reform were discussed by Dr. T.F. Tsiang, Secretary-General of the Executive Yuan, at his Press conference in Chungking.

Dr. Tsiang said that China and Canada had decided to exchange diplomatic representation and the selection of the first Ministers by the two countries was expected to be decided upon in a few days.

Dr. Tsiang added that he was particularly gratified at a statement made recently by the Canadian Minister of National Defence that Canada will aid China and the U.S.S.R. with military supplies and materials. This statement, he said, not only indicates the close relations between China and Canada but further demonstrates the enhancement of the friendly relations between China and Britain.

Following China's recent recognition of the Czechoslovakian Government in Britain, Dr. Tsiang continued, the Chinese Government has received a reply from President Edouard Benes forwarded through the Chinese Ambassador in London, Dr. Wellington Koo.

President Benes expressed appreciation of China's goodwill and said that the Czechoslovakian Government and people had always been most friendly to China.

Discussing China's political reform, Dr. Tsiang said that the most important reform in the country's administrative system in the present year was the unification of financial administration. As a result of this reform, he explained, from the next fiscal year the budgets of provincial governments will be included as part of the Central Government's budget. The Central Government will henceforth give directions to the provincial governments in the preparation of their budgets and check their estimates within which they can formulate their budgets in accordance with their needs.

6,000 JAPANESE CASUALTIES

Recounting the recapture of Foochow on Sept. 2, a Chinese military spokesman at a Press conference stated that Foochow fell into Japanese hands for 135 days and the area under their occupation totalled 250 kilometers. Chinese attacks during the period, he said, had resulted in over 6,000 Japanese casualties.

When the Japanese were hurriedly driven out of Foochow, the spokesman added, they did not have time to do much damage to the docks and other structures in and around the city. The Japanese are probably heading for the South Seas regions, he believed. (Central News)
